It was indeed a great opportunity to discuss and learn from the faculties. Got to learn the practices followed by other departments and the best practices are the takeaways from going from there.

I hope this will help me in taking my decisions and my day to day work.

Thanking,
Karanajit.

- Training was very interactive and knowledge packed.
- Faculties are highly qualified and experts in their respective field.
- Duration was very short, for such lengthy elaborative course.
- Got the chance for clearing real doubts, we were facing in our work, from experts who are working as head/directors in that field.

Participated in the training from 06/11/2023 to 08/11/2023, overall the Course Content was informative and useful. Facilitators are good enough to explain the Subject Content and giving answers to our doubts. Accommodation arrangement is very good and quality of food is average. Following are the observations but are not to be taken as Complaints:

- 1) on first day, 1st Session, we were expecting that introductory session of participants. But directly classes started.
- 2) Cultural event of yesterday's evening was very good. Arrangement of the event was very good. But the chief guest attended the work was not addressed the gathering. Overall experience is OUTSTANDING.

Yuvraj Singh-SO/E, CMM-WG

The training was an opportunity to look beyond the practices being employed at our own respective sites/locations, interacting with counterparts from other sites and witnessing/exercising functions/facilities of Railways, who are operating at a much larger scale. Meeting with/hearing to experts from Railways, Gem & Ministry of Finance was a learning experience to introspect our own procedures and improve upon them.

On improvement front, following are the submissions:

- 1) Duration of the programme may please be revised on

Manoj Srivastava DGM(CMM) NAPS

The training program on Public Procurement strategies conducted at NAIIR particularly in the context of MSEIS and Public Procurement Policy is essential and crucial to all officers of CMM to understand the process. The faculties of NAIIR are highly professional and qualified and able to answer all our queries however, the course time duration allotted for the course is insufficient and may need to extend course duration. This training program will increase our approach to deal with public procurement policy and working in IEM. Hospitality provided by NAIIR creates memorable experiences, connecting the NAIIR as well as NPCIL CMM officials through warmth and services.

D. Joseph Israel, Manager(M)

Lectures have been delivered with clarity. All the doubts are cleared by faculty. Hospitality @ NAIIR is amazing. wonderful stay we had @ NAIIR.

Material modification & Insurance management could have been included for training. GEM related session could have avoided as the session was very basic. if field visit is made to some of Railway's stores, it will be great & informative.

Thank you NAIIR for the great time & valuable lectures.

D.J. Israel
